DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election of Group I, figures 1 – 3, in the reply filed on February 22, 2011 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

The applicant states that claim 3 has been amended to convert to a dependent claim as should be included Group I. Claim 3, as correctly noted by applicant, is supported by figures 6 and 7. Since figures 6 - 7 are encompassed by Group IV as set forth in the original election of species requirement, this claim will not be considered for examination purposes as applicant has elected Group I.

Accordingly, claims 2 – 3 and 5 – 8 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on February 22, 2011.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 4 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ronnberg (US 5,897,544).

With reference to claims 1 and 4, Ronnberg discloses a development type paper diaper (abstract) adapted to be worn on a human body for absorbing and holding excrement, comprising a back sheet (16), a first absorbent (12), a leakage preventing sheet (22) allowing no liquid permeation, a second absorbent (14) and a top sheet (20) in the recited order, wherein said first absorbent extends, when worn, from the back side through the crotch to the abdomen side of the user, said second absorbent extends, when worn, from the back side to the crotch of the user, and said second absorbent leaves said first absorbent from said crotch to said back side (see figures) thereby to form a pocket (28) for holding the excrement between said first absorbent and said second absorbent, said leakage preventing sheet, when viewed in section along a longitudinal axis of the diaper, extends from a terminal end of said leakage preventing sheet positioned substantially at a midpoint of the crotch of the user to the back side of the user and is arranged to contact in said pocket with the second absorbent therealong the entire length of the leakage preventing sheet that is contactable with the second absorbent throughout an entirety of the pocket, and said topsheet (20) is so conformed to the shape of the pocket so as to cover the leakage preventing sheet as set forth in the figures. The excrement containing gathering (30) is shown best in figures 1 and 4 – 7.

With reference to claim 9, cubic leg gatherings (23) are disposed along the first absorbent as set forth in figure 2.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ronnberg (US 5,897,544).

With respect to claim 10, Ronnberg teaches the invention substantially as claimed with the disclosure of pulp in col. 3, lines 65 - 68.

The difference between Ronnberg and claim 10 is the provision that the pulp has a specific arrangement.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to arrange the disclosed pulp as desired since it has been held that the rearrangement of essential working parts of a device is within the level of ordinary skill in the art.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 4 and 9 – 10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL.

See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
